Phone Company Begins Ditching Work to Lay Underground Cable

Will Run in Transite Pipe To Feeder Points

Something new is being put under the ground in Harrisburg. That ditching you may have noticed on East Church street is not for water or sewer lines, and it's not for a gas line.

The ditching is for underground telephone cable, to be run from the new building now being constructed on Church street between Main and Jackson to feeder points, which will be atop what are called riser poles.

The cable will be run in transite pipe, about four inches in diameter. This pipe will be imbedded in concrete, which will be poured beneath where the pipe will be laid, and then over the pipe. The cable will be run on an average of six to eight feet beneath the ground.

Routes of Cables
The conduit and cable will run from the new building, into which dial telephone equipment will be installed, in the following manner: Millard Lynch, district manager of the General Telephone Company of Illinois, stated:

Some will run from the building site east on Church to Cherry, and then north on Cherry and south on Cherry a few feet, where the cable will run upward to feeder points to go to the different parts of the city.

More underground cable will run west to Jackson and south on Jackson to the first alley, where it will rise to a feeder point.

A third route from the building will go west on Church to the alley a half block west of Jackson, with cable going up the riser poles on both the north and south side of Church.

Construct Manholes
A sixth feeder point will be a riser pole at the rear of the building. Each of these points is for a different part of the city.

Mr. Lynch said that cable will not be run through the pipe until the dial operations are near completion, that this operation can be done by workmen pulling the cable through the pipe from manholes near the feeder points. One such manhole is now under construction at Church and Cherry.

At present, Mr. Lynch stated, all cable in the city is aerial.

He said that the company will allow for user expansion in the underground cable system, that about one-third of the pipe imbedded in the concrete will carry no cable at present. There will be a number of pipes in each ditch.

He stated he wished to apologize publicly for having part of the streets blocked and having dirt thrown onto streets and premises during the operation. He said that permanent repairs would be made on all streets and alleys affected by the work.

Work on Building
Manager Lynch could give no date for the start of dial telephoning in Harrisburg but estimated that it would be in the neighborhood of a year.

Foundations and footings of the new building are complete, he stated, and some plumbing is being done this week. Heating contractors next week will do work that is Dutton, who lives across Raymond from his wife's parents, was helping Mr. Thompson install some gutters and they were nearly finished when he fell.

Berserk Father Slays Six Children; Kills Himself

State Identifies Skeleton as James Allen, 45

Investigation of Remains Made By Illinois Curator

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — A skeleton, found in a dry creek bed in Saline county and brought to the Illinois State Museum for identification, was tentatively identified as the remains of James Allen, 45, of Galatia.

The bones and clothing, discovered in an isolated area 12 miles southwest of Harrisburg in southern Illinois, were brought to Springfield last week by Everett Sneed, chief deputy sheriff of Saline county, and Harrisburg Chief of Police Ross Lane. Identification of the remains at the museum was made by Melvin L. Fowler, curator of anthropology.

Sneed and Lane said the only person missing in the Saline county vicinity was the 45-year old Galatia resident, described as being 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighing 133 pounds, Caucasian, and of slight build.

After a week of careful investigation, Fowler reported that the skeleton was that of a male individual, Caucasian, 5 feet 3 to 7 inches tall, weight undetermined, possible age in the 40's, reddish-brown hair with evidence of greying, and a narrow, high face. The description corroborated the physical description of the missing man.

Attempts at fingerprint identification by the State Division of Criminal Identification and Investigation from portions of the desiccated remains of the right hand were without success, Fowler said.

The bones and clothing were found Sept. 17 by George Wilkins and his son, Ralph, of Carrier Mills, in a seldom-traveled area south of Harrisburg.

Following an examination of the remains by Coroner Elmer Gibbons of Harrisburg, the skeletal matter and clothing were brought to Springfield to the State Division of Criminal Investigation and Identification, then to Fowler at the State Museum where a detailed investigation was made.

Upon hearing of the results of the investigation by the museum, relatives in Saline county requested the remains returned for burial.

Arraignment of Nickell, Three Others Continued

CHICAGO (UP)—Criminal Court Judge Wilbert F. Crowley today continued until Oct. 30 the arraignment of State School Supt. Vernon L. Nickell and three other men charged with conspiracy to defraud.

Crowley also reduced the defendants' bonds from $10,000 each to $2,500.

Nickell did not appear in court. His physician, Dr. Robert A. Nachtwey, Springfield, wrote that Nickell was confined to St. John's hospital at the state capital, where he has been since Sept. 12, for treatment of a urinary infection. Nachtwey said Nickell must remain in the hospital "for some time."

Truman Says Eisenhower Extends Campaign Because He is 'Scared'

NEW YORK (UP)—Former President Truman said today that President Eisenhower had extended his plan for a personal campaign because he is "scared."

In a chat with reporters this morning, Mr. Truman said there is no substitute for personal appearances before the voters. He said no candidate can be elected on the basis of a radio or TV campaign.

"People want to know what you look like and they want to know what the feel of you is," the former President said. "Even if you wear a halo you have to get out and show it."

Mr. Truman said he felt the GOP had found out that "a Harding front-porch campaign isn't going to pay." He said the people of the country are awakening to the "fact that all they read and see printed isn't true."

"We've got Ike scared," he said. "We've got them all scared."

Mr. Truman took a 10-block walk without a topcoat although the temperature was a brisk 48 degrees. After spending the morning with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Daniel, he and Mrs. Truman will be driven to Pennsylvania station by Gov. Averell Harriman to leave for Independence, Mo.

Asked about his running feud with Vice President Nixon, Mr. Truman said he was still of the opinion that Nixon had called him a traitor to the United States in a campaign speech several years ago "no matter what explanation he has for it now."

"When a man goes on the defensive you know he's wrong," Mr. Truman commented. "But frankly, I don't even think about Mr. Nixon."

Body Found in Woods Where He Had Fled

Action is Touched Off By Domestic Quarrel with Wife

CLINTON, N. C. (UP)—A berserk white tenant farmer hacked his six children to death today, then fled into a swampy woods where he shot himself to death.

The body of the father, Rufus A. King, 34, was found at 11:55 a. m., four hours after the bodies of the children, ranging in age from 2 1/2 to 12, were found sprawled in King's five-room tenant house in the Keener community seven miles north of here.

The black-bearded father apparently killed his children in a fit of despondency, touched off by a domestic quarrel and the fact that his wife had sworn out a warrant charging him with assault.

The children were slain early today, officers said, apparently by their father. King, who had driven his wife from home after beating her Monday, was heard to leave the house early today, then return some time later in a car driven at high speed.

Deputies who went to the house about 8 a. m. to serve a warrant charging the white tenant farmer with assaulting his wife, found the battered and bloody little bodies.

A funeral home here said several of the children apparently also suffered gunshot wounds.

The stocky, 190-pound King was carrying a .410 gauge shotgun. The broken stock of the rifle was found in the bloodspattered tenant house. Officers said King apparently used it in beating the children to death.

Neighbors said King was "never known to drink" and had a reputation as a quiet, peaceful man.

Mrs. Ed Hines of Clinton, owner of the farm on which King lived as a tenant, said King had been "an ideal" tenant for the last seven years.

The family lived in a five room "typical" tenant house on the 130 acre tobacco and truck farm.

Neighbors said King apparently was a devoted father and appeared affectionate. They knew of no recent domestic troubles between King and his 30-year-old wife until Monday. But relatives said that in a jealous rage "about 13 years ago" King had beaten his wife.

She was the mother of all six of the children and had come into Clinton Monday to stay with her brother.

The bodies of the children were found in the kitchen and back bedroom of the house. Officers said two of the children were dressed and apparently were ready to go to school when they were killed.

The children were identified as Grace, 12, Sonny, 11, Melvin, 10, Ruth, 5, Jerry, 4, and Susan, 2 1/2.

William Pulliam, 70, Of Equality Dies

William Pulliam, 70, resident of Equality, died at 5:30 p. m. Monday in the Pearce hospital.

Mr. Pulliam was never married and resided in Equality with a nephew, Richard Certain.

The body lies in state at the A. K. Moore funeral home in Equality and funeral plans are incomplete.

Awalt Rites Wednesday At Shawneetown

Funeral services for Mrs. Rebecca Awalt, Shawneetown resident who died Sunday morning in the Pearce hospital in Eldorado, have been postponed until Wednesday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Westwood cemetery. The Wright funeral home of Shawneetown is in charge.

Old Fashioned Minsirel One of Features Of Elks Revue Wednesday and Thursday

A real old fashioned minstrel, dressed up with all modern improvements will be one of the features of this year's Elks Revue "Round the Town," to be given Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 3 and 4, at the Grand theatre.

More than 100 local favorites have been rehearsing daily for the past two weeks, brushing up on many of the perennially favorite ballads and working up new gags for the end men.

Dr. H. J. Raley will serve as interlocher and the end men will be Marion Bradley, John Richard Small, Bob Wilson, Charlie Skaggs, Bill Scribner and Buck Schrieber.

Members of the minstrel chorus are Harry Elmer Wirth, Bill Brahears, Richard Webb, Jack Davenport, Charles Ford, Bob Davis, Clayton Slack, Bill Williams, Howard Logsdon, Buck Jones, Don Darrell, "Stopper" Adams, Bill Ferrell, Vern Joyner, Connie Ford, Frances Davenport, Martha Alice Parsons, Becky Barnhill, Jerry Davis, Lucille Jones, Elizabeth Van Zandt, Pat Davenport, Jane Hun-singer, Pat Woolcott, Barbara Josey, Delma Webb, Barbara Thompson, Dorothy Bradley and Shirley Karnes.

The initial performance of this year's show will be held Tuesday afternoon with the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades of the Harrisburg Public schools as guests of the Elks lodge to see the preview of the show.

Again this year there will be a 10-year show band composed of Mary Lou Sullivan, John Ledbetter of Marion, Walter Stocks, Arch Griffin and Al Lockwood of Carbondale, Tommy Jenkins, Herbie Parks, Bill Bottomley and Jerry Bramlet of the Harrisburg Township high school band.

To assure the audience of hearing every bit of the show from any seat in the theatre, the services of a professional sound engineer, Cecil Clingamon of Peru, Ind., has been secured. Mr. Clingamon will have the very latest in sound equipment.

All those who attend will be assured of an evening of good entertainment and they will be contributing to the Elks Crippled Children's fund as the entire proceeds of this show will be devoted to that worthwhile program.

Employers to Pay Lower Illinois Unemployment Tax

CHICAGO (UP)—Gov. William G. Stratton announced today that Illinois employers will pay taxes at a lower rate next year for unemployment compensation.

He said an increase of $18,760, 785 in the unemployment trust fund balance between June 30, 1955, and June 30, 1956, has reduced the need for contributions to keep the fund at the level required by law.

As of June 30, 1956, he said, the balance was $451,217,482. Under the law, tax rates are automatically cut when the fund reserved for payment of unemployment benefits is above $434,000,000.

Stratton said the extent of the tax reductions for 1957 could be estimated in terms of a two-point drop in the state experience factor.

"In the past, a reduction of two points in the state experience factor has been accompanied by an 18 per cent drop in the average contribution rate," he said.

Scouting for Voter Trends

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

We are in the thick of the political pulse-taking season. Reporters and other opinion samplers are combing the country. Generally speaking, this trend-searching is quite different from that practiced even a few years ago.

In former days the method was to tap the views of Democratic and Republican county chairmen around the nation. They were assumed to know pretty accurately
how voter sentiment was running in their bailiwicks, and they usually did.

The coming of the public opinion polls added a new dimension to the business. The pollsters sampled voters' views first hand, on what was declared to be a scientific basis reflecting a national cross-section.

Now we've moved a step beyond these generalized poll-taking methods to the technique of pin-pointing sensitive areas which experience has shown give the sharpest indications of a trend.

Samuel Lubell, presently discussing his 1956 findings in American newspapers, has been the real pioneer in this field. His past researches enabled him to call many elections accurately—especially the 1952 and 1954 battles.

Lubell's knowledge of past voting performance in America is vast and detailed. He plots his inquiries and his findings against a backdrop of economic, social, religious and cultural factors which give the story added meaning.

Analyzing elections is the art of measuring major changes of sentiment, since only by such changes
does one party unseat another.

Consequently, the key man in Lubell's searches is the switching voter—the one who perhaps voted for Mr. Truman in 1948, turned to President Eisenhower in 1952, and is going for Adlai Stevenson this time. Or the one who has traveled a Dewey - Stevenson - Eisenhower course.

This season everybody's after the switching voter. The New York Times has several teams canvassing the nation. The Wall Street Journal has been hunting him down. One midwestern farmer tucked away on a remote dirt road complained he'd been visited by two reporters within a week.

The American voter himself is really responsible for all this activity in campaign time. He isn't the predictable fellow he used to be.

He's far better educated and informed than he was even a decade or two ago. Charges in the techniques of communication keep him abreast of issues. He's more keenly aware of how they may affect his pocketbook and his general welfare.

This broad sensitivity means that many issues—not just one or two—usually determine elections nowadays. And no one can be sure too far ahead what will be the decisive combination of issues.

Because the voters know so much more, the old sampling methods inevitably produce less. Thus those who want to try to figure what will happen have no choice but to get out and leg it hard.

It's all to the good. We're getting the best election reporting ever.

And, more broadly significant, it indicates the American voter has moved to a new plane in direct response to the facts of his world
as he has learned them.

Feminine Hats in Ring

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Har-

Familiar Road

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Gen. Burns Warns Dulles That
Arab-Israeli War Is Imminent;
Peace Will Take Great Ingenuity On Part Of Jewish Leaders; Could The Children
Of The Holy Land Secure A 30-Day Truce?
(Editor's Note — Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his grandson, Drew Arnold, on the subject of peace in the Holy Land.)

Washington, D. C.
Sept. 29, 1956

Dear Drew:

I am now home from the Holy Land, and I still haven't written you about the camels I saw over there. I saw them in Beersheba in the south of Israel which is where Abraham used to bring his sheep and his camels and his goats to get water.

Today, Beersheba is quite a modern city, but the Arabs still bring their camels and their donkeys and their sheep into the town just as Abraham did more than 3,000 years ago.

In the Beersheba market I saw some Arabs loading camels onto a truck. The Arabs seem quite up to date and carry their camels by truck. But this truck already had three camels in it, which is a lot of camels for one truck; so a fourth camel just didn't want to get in. I didn't blame her. Because there wasn't room.

But the Arabs beat that poor camel and yanked her and whiped
her, until finally she squeezed into the truck on top of the other camels. Later I saw the camels being unloaded at the farm of Sheik Souleiman outside the city.
They looked happier when they got out of that truck.

I also saw hundreds of camels along the road as I drove to the Dead Sea. I don't know what they live on, because there is almost no grass on the desert, but they seemed to get along. They belong to Bedouins and Arabs who live in Israel.

As I told you in my last letter,
there are lots of Arabs living in Israel in peace with the Jews.
It's the Arabs outside Israel who don't live in peace.

MACHINE GUNS IN HOLY CITY

Probably you have seen the headlines in the newspapers lately about the shooting between the Arabs and the Jews who don't live in peace on the opposite sides of their border. Some of the worst of this shooting has been around Jerusalem, the Holy City
where Christ was buried.

Just a few weeks ago, your granddaddy was in Jerusalem and talked to a Jewish immigrant from Algiers who had a ladder tied to the balcony in front of his house. I saw the ladder and asked him why he had it in such a peculiar place. He explained that the main entrance to his house faced an Arab machine-gun nest
and that sometimes the Arabs shot at him as he went in his front door. So, when they were in a shooting mood, he didn't use his main entrance, but lowered the ladder from his balcony and went in and out of his house that way.

I looked at the main entrance to his house and there, all around the doorway, were bullet holes.

The Arab machine-gun nest was only about as far away as across the street. But the Arabs were not in a shooting mood that day.
And inasmuch as it was a hot day
and cool on that side of the house,
we sat down beside his main entrance to take a rest. Nothing happened. No Arabs shot at us.

In fact, most of the time in Jerusalem they don't shoot.

ARAB COUSINS

That illustrates what I wrote you before, that there should be no real trouble between the Arabs and the Jews. As the chief rabbi of Jerusalem reminded me, the Jews and Arabs are cousins. They both are descended from Abraham—the Jews from his son Isaac and the Arabs from his son Ishmael.

Yet today, Maj. Gen. E. L. M.
Burns, the Canadian who heads
the United Nations truce commission, has been cabling the State Department that war between Israel and the Arab states is more to be feared than ever. He is terribly worried about it and has informed Secretary Dulles that something drastic must be done.

The Jews have given the world
some of the greatest scientists,
some of the greatest artists,
greatest writers, greatest businessmen. But so far they haven't been able to solve this greatest problem of all—peace. The word Jerusalem comes from the old Hebrew "Jerushalayem," which means "peace." But today in Jerusalem there is no peace.

I was thinking that perhaps the solution to this trouble, the way to bring peace, might be quite simple—just stop shooting, arrange a real truce, and begin working at some people-to-people friendship. Perhaps if the statesmen of the world won't push this,
maybe it could be inspired by little boys like you.

If, for instance the little boys of Israel and the Arab states demanded of their fathers that this constant shooting back and forth across the border stop, then it might stop. Perhaps if they demanded that it stop for at least 30 days, and that no one on either side lift a finger for 30 days no matter what the provocation, then from that 30 days of thinking about peace, there might come more peace.

A CHILD COULD LEAD

You don't realize it, but little boys have a lot of influence. The person who can get into see President Eisenhower quickest is not Secretary Dulles, but little David Eisenhower, who's about your age. He doesn't have to ask for an appointment. And his grand-daddy would do anything in the world he wanted.

That's true too of the little boys in Israel and the Arab states. I don't know exactly how we could get the idea across to them, but if they all demanded an end to this useless shooting back and forth across the land from which came the man who wanted to bring us peace, then perhaps his dream might be fulfilled. After all, it was he who taught that a little child shall lead them.

Perhaps this is a foolish idea of mine. But where the statesmen and soldiers and diplomats of the Holy Land have failed, maybe the children might succeed.

I hope to see you quite soon.
Love from Your Grandfather.

Howlett Claims He Provided Tip to Expose Scandal

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Michael J.
Howlett, Democratic candidate for state auditor, has claimed he provided the tip which led to exposure of the million-dollar scandal in the office of the former Republican auditor, Orville E. Hodge.

Basil L. Walters, executive editor of the Chicago Daily News, which broke the story, said, "No comment."

Howlett made the claim in a televised broadcast Sunday from Station WTVP here with his Republican opponent, State Sen. Elbert S. Smith, Decatur.

Hodge, his chief aide Edward A.
Epping, and Edward A. Hintz, president of the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago, where many of Hodge's fraudulent vouchers
were cashed, now are serving prison terms.

Calendar Of Meetings

Circle E of the McKinley Baptist church will meet Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Lela Baker, 1100 South Washington.

The Executive Board of the Women's Guild of the Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the church.

The members of Pride of Arrow Rebekah lodge are asked to be at the Gibbons funeral home by 1 p. m. Wednesday for the funeral of Mrs. Ollie Cain.

First '57 Ford Goes to Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russians are getting a chance before any of the rest of us to watch the 1957 Fords go by.

One new Ford began cruising the streets of Moscow Monday, and others will follow. The same models won't appear in the show windows of American auto dealers until Wednesday.

Furthermore, the Ford in Moscow cost only $1. Those in hometown, U. S. A., will cost—well, considerably more.

The very first car off Ford's 1957 assembly line—a glistening, black sedan—was sent to Moscow. It is one of nine sold to the State Department for use by the U. S. Embassy in the Russian capital. Already it is drawing admiring crowds of Muscovites.

28 Clubs Represented At District 24 Meeting Of Illinois Women's Clubs

Eighty seven clubwomen representing 28 clubs from twenty towns in the eleven counties that comprise the 24th District of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, were present at the district board meeting held on Sept. 27 at the Methodist church in Fairfield.

Registration began at 9:30 and the meeting convened at 10 a. m. Mrs. J. L. Miller, district president, Harrisburg, presided.

The meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag, led by the American Citizenship chairman, Mrs. Kanella Wise, of Grayville. "How Firm a Foundation," hymn of the month as selected by the I. F. W. C., was sung, led by the music chairman, Mrs. N. C. Morris of Eldorado. William M. Henderson, host minister, gave the invocation.

Mrs. Bernard Podolsky, president of the hostess club, very graciously welcomed the guests. The response was given by Mrs. Roy Milburn, junior past district president, New Burnside.

Following introductions, Mrs. C. Deneen Matthews, Fairfield, sang two beautiful numbers, "Neopolitan Nights" and "Villa," accompanied by Mrs. Charles J. Jannings III, also of Fairfield.

Routine business followed and the new 1956-57 directories and other material were distributed. Just before the noon recess the president gave her report of the state board meeting held recently at Monticello college.

Luncheon was served in the dining room of the church.

The meeting reconvened at 1:15 p. m. with the singing of the state song, "Onward Federation." Suzanne Podolsky, 11 year old daughter of the hostess club president, entertained with a poem "Mother and Her Clubs." Other entertainment during the afternoon session was furnished by Mrs. N. C. Morris and Mrs. Alta Crawford, both of Eldorado, who sang two duets, "My Gift For You" and "When Day is Done," accompanied by Mrs. Jannings.

Departmental and standing committee chairmen gave brief outlines of work and projects as set forth by the General and State Federation.

Announcements included the important Southern Regional conference to be held at Collinsville Oct. 25. All the state officers and state chairmen will be present. Club presidents and district chairmen, especially, of the 22nd, 23rd, 24th and 25th districts are expected and urged to attend.

ing secretary, Harrisburg, extended courtesies and the meeting adjourned at 3 p. m.

A goody number visited the new library after adjournment in response to an earlier invitation from the librarian.

Clubs from the following towns were represented: Metropolis, Eldorado, Albion, Wayne City, Geff, Enfield, Grayville, Flora, Rosiclare, Louisville, Ridgway, Clay City, McLeansboro, Fairfield, Cissna, New Burnside, Carmi, Sims and Harrisburg.

Attending from Harrisburg were Mrs. J. L. Miller, Mrs. Clyde Pittman, Mrs. L. B. Kimmel, Mrs. William H. Farley and Mrs. Nelle Meyers.

Mrs. Lula Cox Simpson, 1427 South Granger, is a patient at the Lightner hospital where she underwent major surgery yesterday. Her room number is 316. She is the daughter of Mrs. Cora Cox of Harrisburg. Her condition is reported as good.

First legislative assembly in Washington state met at Olympia in 1854.

Tea By St. Ann's Altar Society Honors Mrs. Dora Reynolds

A quite spry little lovable lady who observed her 81st birthday Sunday was honored Saturday afternoon at a tea at the home of Mrs. Marie McCormick, 811 South Washington, and her sister, Miss Gladys Laber.

She is Mrs. Dora Reynolds, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Guihan, who has been active in church work and civic affairs since receiving her education at St. Joseph's Academy at Carondelet, Mo.

She was born Sept. 30, 1875, in East St. Louis and upon completing her musical education taught music in East St. Louis from 1895 to 1910 and was church organist in the Holy Name church and St. Mary's church in St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Reynolds came to Harrisburg in 1910, taught music here and was also church organist at St. Mary's Catholic church. In 1915 she married W. I. Reynolds who passed away in 1922. She then went to Los Angeles, Calif., where she was organist at Christ the King church in Hollywood. In 1933 she returned to Harrisburg and lived at her old home at 326 East Church until 1952 when she moved to her present residence at 321 West Lincoln.

Mrs. Reynolds is totally self supporting in a business of her own.

For five years she was treasurer of the Harrisburg Woman's club and chairman of the Saline County Red Cross for seven years. She was organizational chairman for the Tuberculosis Society and has served as president of St. Ann's Altar society of St. Mary's. Over the years she has taught religious instruction in St. Mary's.

The tea Saturday afternoon was given by the members of St. Ann's Altar society and was held at the home of Mrs. McCormick and Miss Laber whose mother, Mrs. John Laber, and Mrs. Reynolds were the very dearest of friends. Mrs. Laber died in 1937.

Mrs. Reynolds received many lovely gifts and since she is unable to do her own shopping was honored with a canned food shower.

She is the oldest living member of St. Mary's church.

Miss Ethel Morrison, 107 East South street, who had been hospitalized recently but was able to return home, re-entered the Lightner hospital Monday.

REV. LEE POPE WARD will bring the message in the Spiritual Life service at the First Presbyterian church this evening. Rev. Ward is pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Murphysboro. Services are being held each evening this week, continuing through Friday, at the Presbyterian church, with a different speaker for each service. Worship services start at 7:30 p. m., followed by a fellowship hour in the basement rooms of the church. Everyone is invited to attend.

Sue Ellen Melton Has Party on 7th Birthday

Little Sue Ellen Melton celebrated her seventh birthday Saturday afternoon with a party from 2:30 to 5 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Melton, 9 West Raymond.

Small figurines were given as favors to the guests.

Games were played and prizes won by Marsha Moore, Barbara Fearheiley and Brenda Kay Williams.

After Sue Ellen opened her many lovely gifts refreshments of ice cream, muffins, and Cokes were served to Stephanie Fulkerson, Martha Hayes, Judy James, Sally McGehee, Barbara Fearheiley, Randy Wilson, Katy Gaskins, Cathy Roper, Connie Matthews, Marsha Moore, Brenda Kay Williams and Sue Ellen Melton. Marsha Boyd, who was ill, sent a present.

Mrs. Melton was assisted by Modene Melton and Shermaine Williams.

Ike Blames Democrats on School Aid; Adlai Renews H-Bomb Plea

LEXINGTON, Ky. — President Eisenhower, again using stronger words than he did in the 1952 campaign, directly attacked the Democrats Monday night over federal aid to education.

His staff said this was "only the beginning."

The President charged that Adlai Stevenson is apparently confused about education.

He said the Democrats want to lead the nation "back to the old road — the zig-zag directionless road of trial and error." He characterized the Democratic Party as being comprised of advocates of "drifting war and racing inflation."

Mr. Eisenhower repeatedly slammed the Democrats in a speech to more than 16,000 persons in the University of Kentucky Coliseum. Then he got back into his personal plane, the Columbine III, and returned to Washington less than 36 hours after leaving the capital.

Mr. Eisenhower told his Kentucky audience and listeners from coast to coast tuned in to the combined facilities of the Columbia Broadcasting System that expanding school facilities is the "most urgent" domestic problem facing the nation.

The Chief Executive said the serious schoolroom shortage had been reduced somewhat under his administration, but not enough. And he blamed the Democrats in ENROUTE WITH STEVENSON — Adlai E. Stevenson said today the world's major powers are ready to halt H-bomb tests "if there is leadership in this direction."

Setting off on a campaign trip through New Jersey, the Democratic presidential candidate renewed his appeal for action by this country to bring about a "moratorium" on tests of nuclear weapons.

"The renunciation of H-bomb tests is a step which I think the great powers are now willing to take—if there is leadership in this direction," Stevenson said.

A Safe Step

"It is a step that can be safely taken, for no one can explode a hydrogen bomb in secret and each would know whether the others were acting in good faith. It would be a step along a new path toward peace."

"I regret," he said, that the Eisenhower administration "has not pressed forward along this path to peace as so many have urged — Catholic and Protestant religious leaders, distinguished scientists, prominent educators, yes, and serious politicians."

Stevenson's remarks on disarmament were prepared for delivery at Fairleigh Dickinson University at Teaneck, during a motorcade through New Jersey.

necessary before the concrete floor is poured.

Much outside construction already has been done in the city, he added. New poles and cable have been erected in the north part of town and other material is here, including some of the central office material. Dorris Heights will be included in the urban service when dial telephoning begins, he said.

Dial telephones in Eldorado are scheduled to be in operation Nov. 13, he said, and a new telephone directory will be distributed for Eldorado, along with numbers at Ridgway and Shawneetown. All Harrisburg customers will get a copy of the Eldorado book, he stated.

Elmo Armes, 49, of Near Thompsonville Dies

Elmo Armes, 49, whose home was one and a half miles southwest of Thompsonville, died Monday morning in the West Frankfort hospital after a short illness.

The body lies in state at the residence at which place the funeral will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. Rev. Virgil Miller of Dahlgren will officiate and burial will be in East Fork cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Leanna, and one daughter, Mrs. Ada Mae Williams of near West End; his father, Will Armes of Benton, and his foster mother, Mrs. Ada Armes of Thompsonville.

The Courtney funeral service of Galatia is in charge.

School to Train Practical Nurses Begins at HTHS

The school for the training of practical nurses started Monday at the Harrisburg Township high school.

The local school, one of five in Illinois outside Chicago, has been approved by the State Board of Nurse Education and Nurse Registration and the Vocational Division of the State Department of Education.

Mrs. Shirley Oshel, R. N., is coordinator of nurses and in charge of classroom instruction, with the exception of the nutritional instruction, which is being taught by Mrs. Marshal Cothran.

Mrs. Oshel reports that the students are enthusiastic about the course of instruction and a very successful school is expected.

Facilities available include classroom space with proper library and charts and laboratory with four complete hospital units.

Local physicians and nurses are volunteering their time to aid the school and the Egyptian Health Department has made available a number of manuals and booklets.

The student practical nurses will receive 17 weeks classroom instruction and 31 weeks clinical experience in approved hospitals in the Harrisburg area.

Classes are in session from 8:30 a. m. to 4:20 p. m.

The typical consumer spends about one-fourth of his income on groceries.

To Form Kiwanis-Sponsored Key Club at the HTHS

For the first time in the 55 year history of the Harrisburg Township high school the boys of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes will have the opportunity to join the Key Club sponsored by the International Kiwanis club. The closest high school that has a Key Club is West Frankfort.

The purposes of this organization are service to the school and community, to encourage leadership, and to act as a link between school and community.

John Schork, member of the HTHS faculty and of the Kiwanis club, is chairman of the Key Club committee.

Boys of the upper three classes may join the Key Club if they are approved by the principal of the school, Eltis Henson, and the sponsoring committee.

The meetings of the club will be held after school hours. Two members of the Kiwanis club will attend the Key Club meetings and two members of the Key Club will be present at the Kiwanis meetings.

It is customary to have a waiting list of boys who desire to be members. These boys will be admitted at regular intervals, but will be on probation for a period.

Charter night will be held the first Tuesday in November when Key Club members and their parents will be dinner guests of the Kiwanis club.

FROM THE ROAD UP, 1957 FORDS are a complete departure from previous models. The new models will be unveiled locally by Wilson-Taylor Ford Sales Wednesday. There will be 19 body styles, of which this is the four door Victoria, a member of the new "Fairlane 500" series.

New 1957 Fords, Longer and Lower, On Display by Dealers Wednesday

The new 1957 Ford will be on display Wednesday in the showrooms of Wilson-Taylor Ford Sales, local dealer. "The 1957 Fords represent the biggest change in the modern history of the Ford car," R. S. McNamara, Ford Motor company vice president and Ford Division general manager, stated today at Dearborn, Mich.

The new Ford line divides into two basic sizes, Fairlane and Custom, plus the station wagon series, each with its own body and chassis. In addition, the Fairlane series has been expanded to offer "Fairlane 500" models, which have extra luxury features.

The 1957 Fairlane and Fairlane 500 sedans are nine inches longer and four inches lower than last year's comparable models. Custom and Custom 300 sedans are more than three inches longer and nearly three and one-half inches lower than the 1956 models. Station wagons are three and one-half inches lower and nearly six inches longer. Fairlanes and Fairlane 500's are built on a 118-inch wheelbase. Station wagons, Customs, and Custom 300's have a 116-inch wheelbase.

"There has been no sacrifice of headroom inside the car, in spite of their reduced height," Mr. McNamara said. "The new frame extends to the sides of the car, and this permits the floor to be lowered inside the frame rails."

For the first time, a high performance V-8 engine is available as an optional power plant on all

Ford cars. The engine, called the Thunderbird Special, develops 245 horsepower, and is equipped with a four-barrel low silhouette carburetor.

Standard engine for the Fairlane and station wagon series is the 212 h.p. Thunderbird V-8. A 190 h.p. V-8 is standard for the Custom and Custom 300 series. Both have two-barrel carburetors. In addition, the 144 h.p. Mileagemaker six is available on all models. All engines can be ordered with standard, overdrive or Fordomatic transmissions.

Ford's new styling starts with wide hooded headlights and a forward slanting grille, and includes streamlined wheel openings, a windshield that wraps further around the sides for better visibility, distinctive fins at the rear, and contoured sides that give the car a sculptured look.

Ford's safety features introduced in 1956 have been improved. There is a new safety instrument panel with recessed control knobs clustered under the redesigned deep center steering wheel. Instrument panel and sun visor crash cushions are available, and the safety rear view mirror is continued. Safety door latches have been reinforced to withstand greater impacts. A three and one-half inch shock absorbing area is provided over the steering column by the new safety steering wheel, which is one inch smaller in diameter. It is mounted lower in the car for the best driving position.

Roofs have been strengthened with steel center bows. Hoods are hinged at the front so air will hold them down if they open accidentally. The hood release has been moved to the instrument panel, making the engine compartment tamper-proof when the car is locked.

For 1957, Ford offers a broad range of optional features including power - operated steering, brakes, seats and windows, as well as air conditioning, tinted glass, 6 and 8-tube radios, and heaters.

Choisser Explains Horse Racing Rules To Rotary Club

The weekly meeting of the Rotary club was held Monday at noon at the Masonic temple. C. R. Gardner substituted for program chairman Traflet Dennis and introduced the speaker, Attorney Ralph W. Choisser.

Choisser has been representing the Illinois Racing Board for the last four years. He spoke on the regulations governing thoroughbred horse racing in Illinois. The board which controls the racing is composed of three members, usually two members are from the political party which is in power at the time. Everyone connected with the various race tracks must have a license and these are checked by the board. Licenses are not granted to persons who have been convicted of any crime or to anyone who is a habitual drunkard. Every race must have a representative of the racing board watching to see that unfair practices are not used during the race. Horses are checked to detect the use of stimulants, which cannot be used on the horse 48 hours or less before a race. Mr. Choisser said that much has been done to clean up the sport of horse racing.

Horse racing has grown until it now is the largest spectator sport in the United States. The race tracks are allowed to stay open only 60 days each season, but it is estimated that during that time the two downstate Illinois tracks will gross about $38,000,000. Tax from this will be used for the convention hall in Chicago, soldier bonuses, and to help the county fairs with their premiums. It was announced at the meeting that Oct. 22 will be ladies' night.

Bob Feller Heads Major League Players Association

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians has been elected president of the Major League Baseball Players Association, a group within the structure of the player representatives set-up.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals was elected vice-president and Jerry Coleman of the New York Yankees secretary at meeting Monday. Named as members of the board of directors were Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs for the National League and Ed Yost of the Washington Senators for the American.

Feller described the association as "not a union or a guild, but a group which will handle most of the administration work of the pension plan and other matters that come up from time to time."

Pollet, Released By Pirates, Retires

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Howie Pollet, veteran left hander who saw major league service with four clubs, was given his unconditional release by the Pittsburgh Pirates today and he announced his retirement from baseball.

Pollet, who broke in with the St. Louis Cardinals and later played with the Chicago Cubs, and Chicago White Sox in addition to two stints with the Pirates, is in the insurance business in Houston, Tex., with Eddie Dyer, former Cards manager.

The 35-year-old pitcher had an 0-4 won-lost record with the Pirates in the 1956 season.

Bull Pups Beat Eldorado Frosh- Soph Squad, 13-7, for First Win

The Harrisburg Bull Pups entered the victory column last night by beating the Eldorado freshman - sophomore football team, 13 to 7, on the Eldorado field last night.

Harrisburg scored first late in the initial quarter when fullback Lowell Furlong took the ball over from the four. Furlong had set up the touchdown with a 61-yard run to that point. A pass for extra point was no good.

Eldorado a few minutes later got to the H-4 when halfback Chuck McAllister raced to the H-29 and fullback Dwight Laffoon smashed 25 to the 4. But penalties and a seven-yard loss pushed the ball back to the 21, where Harrisburg took over.

In the third period Harrisburg took possession of the ball on the E-19 after a bad pass from center by Eldorado. David Dalton in two carries took the ball to the 12 but a 15-yard holding penalty put it on the 22. There quarterback Bob Pavelonis passed to halfback Dalton for a 22-yard scoring play and the lead increased to 12-0. Pavelonis pushed through for the extra point.

Early in the final period Eldorado recovered a Harrisburg fumble on the H-35 and John Allen carried to the 22 on the next play. McAllister ran to the 13 and Laffoon carried the rest of the way. McAllister ran for the extra point and the score was 13-7.

Eldorado made 12 first downs to six for Harrisburg. Harrisburg made 121 yards rushing and 70 passing for 191 yards. Eldorado had 207 rushing and 18 passing for 225. Harrisburg was penalized 60 yards. Eldorado 20.

Harrisburg Coaches Hal Killbrew and John Dotson started Wathen and Woolcott at ends, Maynard and H. Beal at tackles, Fisher and Pickford at guards, Biggs at center, Pavelonis at quarterback, Fleming and Dalton at halfbacks and Furlong at fullback. Others who saw action included J. Kane, P. Kane, Ledford, Martin and Bryant.

Jim Redden, Eldorado coach, started Miller and Davis at ends, Reed and Gates at tackles, Hall and Baugher at guards, Dorman at center, Fowler at quarterback, McAllister and Allen at halfbacks and Laffoon at fullback.

Du Quoin Fair Confirmed Site For Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — The Du Quoin State Fair has been confirmed as the site of the 1957-58 renewals of the $110,000 Hambletonian, the "Kentucky Derby" of harness racing.

E. J. Hayes, president of the fair, said he has been notified by executors of the W. H. Kane estate, Goshen, N. Y., that they have assigned rights for his promotion of the trotting classics.

In August, the Hambletonian Society gave the event to the Du Quoin State Fair for two years but did not specify the years. Hayes said plans are underway to double the present seating capacity of 10,000.

The race will run during the week of August 26, but an exact date has not been set, Hayes said.

THE LONG NIGHT

By MARTIN CAIDIN

THE STORY: Donald Thompson, youngest son of Henry Thompson, one of the leaders in the Civil Defense setup is visiting a schoolchum when air raid sirens sound, warning of a sneak attack. Donald remembers his father's instructions and tells the neighbor family, the Phillips, what to do.

XVI

Helen was fussing with their old portable radio, vainly turning the dials in an attempt to get some response. "The batteries are dead," she complained helplessly to her husband.

"Well," he replied, "we can't do nothing about that now. Hey, you kids, under the workbench. Put your jackets on, the heat's off and it's going to be pretty cold down here."

He noticed the comic books beneath his son's arm. "Those ain't gonna' do you no good, son; I'm turning off the electric switch." He made sure his wife and the youths were comfortable beneath the sturdy metal table where he kept his power tools, turned on his flashlight, and switched off the main electric power switch. In a moment he was sliding beneath the table.

The sirens were still. On the street outside, Bill Kramer, who lived six houses down the block, was blowing a whistle and furiously waving a flashlight at a car attempting to drive through the street.

"Get off the street, you fool!" he shouted. The driver slammed on his brakes to avoid hitting the gesticulating air raid warden who stood doggedly in the center of the street, determined not to let the car pass.

The angry driver pushed open his door, shouting loudly: "Are you nuts?" he roared.

Kramer walked around to the side of the car. "Lissen, Mac," he said heatedly, "I ain't got no time to argue with you. You got any sense you'll get into one of these houses. Didn't you hear those sirens?"

"So what?" the stranger sneered. Kramer looked at him in disgust, turned and ran across the street into his own home. The stranger stared with disbelief as the warden disappeared into his doorway, spat "Nuts!" to himself.

The great light flashed. Even as it fled, the incandescent air of the shock wave descended upon the street at 600 miles an hour. The racing juggernaut of glowing air swept against, over, into, and embraced completely each brick and frame structure. Homes wrenched, bulged, and seemed to swell violently from within, as though every molecule and atom had burst its bounds and was striving madly to escape. In an instant, wreckage and parts of human beings spewed forth like discarded bile.

The roof of the stranger's car buckled, windows disappeared, and the machine leaped off the ground. Even as the metal warped, the car spun crazily in the air. A great tree trunk stood before the car and halted its flight with stunning impact; the left side of the car mashed together, and two mangled sections of the vehicle dropped to the ground.

The lifeless body of its passenger had no sooner reached the earth than the blast was gone. The steel fist was no more. Six, perhaps seven, snaps of the fingers since the searing light appeared and the fireball was already glowing dully, clawing its way up the sky.

The Phillips family and Donald Thompson huddled in terror at the grinding roar that swept down from the sky. They felt the earth jump, vibrate crazily. A great sound smote their ears as the house blew away above them. A momentary respite from the deafening thunder, and then again the tearing and splintering of wood hammered at their suffering ears. Then silence.

Thick dust and powdered plaster swept into the basement. They flinched as a heavy beam crashed through the roof over them, spilling torn wood and the kitchen refrigerator onto the basement floor. The heavy metal table over their heads shifted suddenly, groaned, and sagged. But it held.

The silence which descended after the roaring thunder slowly gave way to strange sounds filtering in through the splintered wreckage about them. People cried out, some weak and moaning, others strong and clear, shouting for help. Debris trickled and dropped thru the sagging ceiling.

Jim Phillips regained his senses with a start. Past combat experience quickly controlled his thinking. He turned the flashlight beam through the dusty gloom at his wife and the two youngsters, made them all move their arms and legs, shift their bodies, and turn their heads.

"Everybody okay?" he asked. Weak assent reached his ears. "All of you stay put until I see what it's like. Maybe we can make it outside without any trouble."

Phillips crawled cautiously from beneath the table. He shoved aside a shattered beam and gained his feet. Slowly he swept the light around the basement. Desolation and dust met his eyes. A flicker of light caught his attention thru the shattered ceiling. Fire!

The pilot light in the gas range was still burning and the dancing flame had spread to curtains and the splintered wood which had descended upon it in the explosion.

"Helen!" he called sharply. "You and the kids come out from under the table. Hurry now, we've got to get out of this basement just as fast as we can!"

Here
 Tomorrow!

came the magic that made possible so wonderfully different a Ford. In the toughest on-the-road tests ever given to a car, this "Inner Ford" demonstrated that a '57 Ford rides you sweet and low... that it takes the bumps without a bobble, the curves without the pitch... and, that in power, it "takes nothing from nobody!" Nothing on wheels hurries, handles or holds up like a Ford!

A new kind of FORD with the mark of tomorrow

You're in for a thrill when you see this new knock-out named Ford! But save your superlatives till you drive it! That's where the fun really starts.

It's fun just knowing that others who see you wish they were you. For you're commanding the longest, lowest, heaviest, biggest car ever to sport such a low price tag. There's head room to spare for a new fall bonnet... stretch-out space for a "Daddy Longlegs."

You'll find that the tough and ready new "Inner Ford" is built to take the roughest road you'll care to travel. New outboard rear springs and ball-joint front suspension let Ford take the turns without the tilt. New swept-back control arms help take bounce out of bumps.

Best of all, Ford's library-like quiet is built in. And the new "Inner Ford" is why. For never before in Ford's field has there been a body with so much extra bracing so firmly anchored to its foundation. And you can choose from three big Silver Anniversary V-8's with up to 245 horsepower. There's also a new Mileage Maker Six with 144 horsepower, the most modern Six in the industry.

You can pick your Ford tailored to your desires and your budget, too! Choose from nine Fairlane or Fairlane 500 models or from five Custom or Custom 300 models. Or take your pick from Ford's five longer, lower, new station wagons. Whichever model you select, you'll get a car that's been re-invented from the wheels up!

So there's the new kind of Ford. Big! Gracious! Spacious! A luxury car true—but one that any new-car buyer can easily afford. Come in! See what wonder-cars you can buy now at low Ford prices.
